Acting Chief, Fiscal Division

Errors in Transportation Charges

1. Occasionally travelers are asked to purchase tickets for cash, for security reasons, although they are travelling on vouchered funds.

2. In a few instances it has been noted that the transportation agency overcharges the traveler and such overcharge is not ascertained until the voucher is being audited. Since securing a refund under such circumstances involves considerable expense the audit policy of this office, effective immediately, is that overcharges under $5 will not be disallowed and the traveler's request for reimbursement will be approved.
